A TOAST

You ask for a toast? I'll give you one.

A toast to the GOLD AND BLUE;

A toast to a school, and a toast to a flag,

To which we shall ever be true.

Here's to our troubles we had at school,

And here's to our pleasure and joys;

Here's to those days in Virginia,

When we were military boys.

Here's to the friends we made there;

Here's to the merry times.

Here's to the days we spent there,

In our country's finest clime.

So fill them up, fill up each cup,

And drink with hearts as gay,

As those old days, those good old days,

We spent at S. M. A.

—SPEEDY.

FOREWORD

From the 1906 Yearbook

THE EDITORS take pleasure in presenting to alumni, cadets, and friends of the Staunton Military Academy its (fifty-first) Year-Book. We offer it as a humble contribution to the traditions of the S. M. A. Our object has been to record some of those happenings and reminiscences that will linger most fondly in our memories. If, in after years, this volume should bring any pleasure to a loyal son of the S. M. A., then our chief object will have been obtained. If we have failed, we trust that you will not forget that our work has been the product of moments stolen from study and recreation, and that to destroy is easier than to construct. It has been to us a labor of love, and we hope our faults will be pardoned in the spirit in which they were committed.

CLASS POEM

Oh, Memory! giver of both pain and joy,
What treasures for this Class hast thou in store!
On wounds which us in future will annoy
A grateful healing ointment thou wilt pour.
Some quiet hour when fading in the west
The saffron clouds to gray are turned at last,
Thou'lt swiftly as the wild bird to its nest
Transport us back o'er milestones we have passed

We'll see the mild moon shining down upon
The barracks with its hundred gleaming eyes,
The smiling face of Harry, Dick, or John,
The old familiar tramping and the cries.
We'll see the gray battalion and the gleam
Reflected from the shining line of steel,
The hoarse commands, the quick formation seem
Not past nor dim, but present — they are real.

From the 1906 Blue and Gold

CLASS POEM

The blood-red rose fades into dull-hewn dust;
Time stumbles o'er its shattered, broken stem.
Yet from the stalk new full-blown blooms are thrust
To frame the thorn with riotous diadem.
So grows and fades the Class of Fifty-Six,
Triumphant with the guerdon of its praise.
While time dissolves its union, it predicts
New growth, new heights to climb in future days.

BLUE AND GOLD

Strive on, our dear old schoolmates
Fight for the goal in sight.
Fight for the fame of old S. M. A.
Fight on with all your might.
Don't let defeat cause sorrow,
Think of the victories of old.
One day's defeat means victory to meet,
So fight on for the Blue and Gold.

Hail to our Alma Mater!
Hail to the Gold and Blue!
Here's to thy glorious past, S. M. A.
Here's to thy future too!
Under thy glorious colors
We'll double the victories of old.
We'll shout thy name and bear thee to fame,
So fight on for the Blue and Gold.

A TOAST

You ask for a toast? I'll give you one.

A toast to the GOLD AND BLUE;

A toast to a school, and a toast to a flag,

To which we shall ever be true.

Here's to our troubles we had at school,

And here's to our pleasure and joys;

Here's to those days in Virginia,

When we were military boys.

Here's to the friends we made there;

Here's to the merry times.

Here's to the days we spent there,

In our country's finest clime.

So fill them up, fill up each cup,

And drink with hearts as gay,

As those old days, those good old days,

We spent at S. M. A.

—SPEEDY.
