STAUNTON MILITARY ACADEMY

FOREWORD

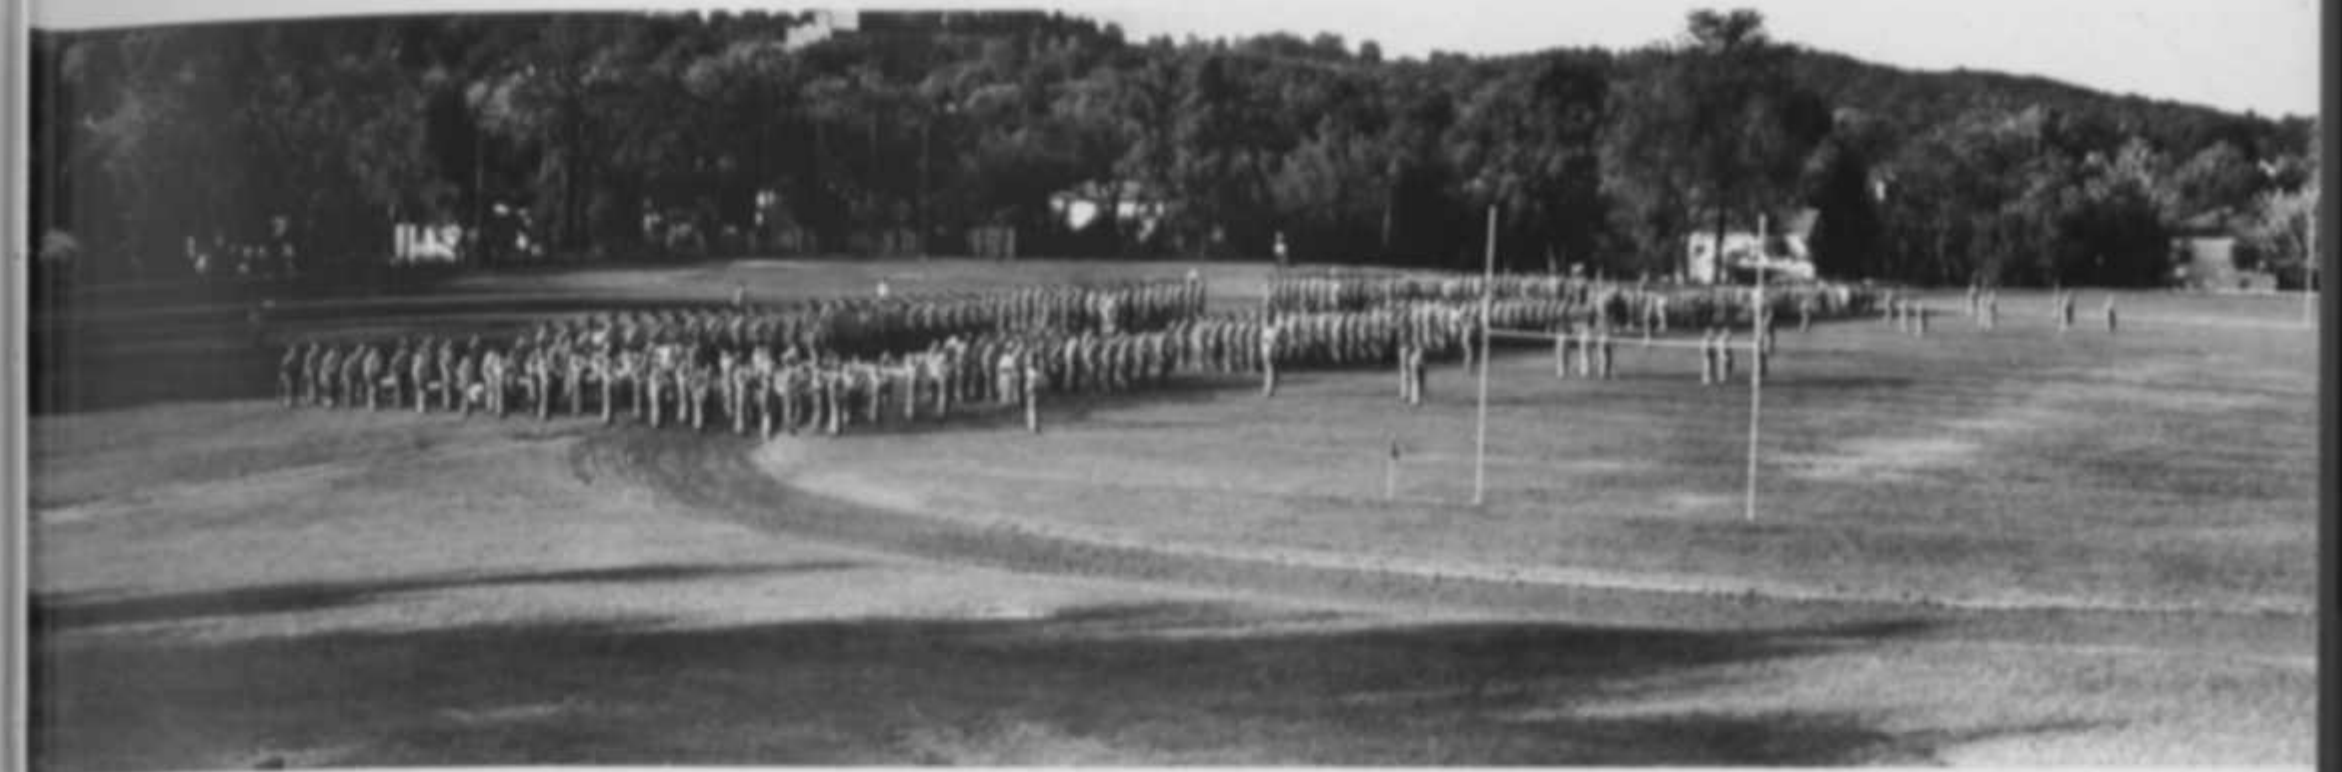

The future is very much a part of the present — perhaps a greater part of our present than is the past. Our studies at Staunton are oriented to help us participate fully and intelligently in the future world — a world whose frontiers are limited only by the horizon. The immediacy of the future is reflected in the new development of mathematics and science, in different approaches to English and languages, in the growth of new occupations, in the terminology we use. The 1963 Shrapnel recognizes that man is crossing a new frontier into THE SPACE AGE.

The 1963 Shrapnel is dedicated to
WILLIAM K. DOVE

Holding the Bachelor's and Master's Degrees from the University of Virginia, Colonel William K. Dove came to Staunton Military Academy in September 1942. His teaching was interrupted by service in the Navy from March 1943 to September 1946. Since that time he served as teacher of English and later biology. In September 1956 he became Commandant of Cadets and Guidance Officer, a post he held until his retirement in November 1962 to a civilian post in the Office of the Chief of Naval Personnel.

As teacher and Commandant of Cadets Colonel Dove established a reputation for firm discipline, wise tolerance, and sympathetic concern for cadets and their problems. It is for these years spent in the education of young men that this yearbook is dedicated.

Mr. Edward Dowling, Executive Secretary of the Staunton Y.M.C.A., addressed the Corps of Cadets on the subject "Honor and Character Development." Mr. Dowling advised the students, "incorporate in your daily routine the formula of hard work and plain living."

"It is this rule, learned and practiced in one's preparatory years, that determines honor, builds character, and provides genuine success . . . education is more than simply acquiring information and learning; it involves learning how to be someone; how to be a gentleman; and how to live and contribute in a world that demands a high premium of honor."

THE GENERAL ALEXANDER M. PATCH HONOR CODE for the Staunton Military Academy

As a member of the Corps of Cadets of the Staunton Military Academy, I am bound by its CODE OF HONOR. . .

1. I will not lie.
2. I will not steal.
3. I will not cheat.
4. I will prevent all violations, if possible.
5. I will report violations of this HONOR CODE.

COMMISSIONING OF OFFICERS

The annual commissioning ceremonies for Staunton's cadet officers was held on 27 November 1962. Speaker for the occasion was Colonel Nathaniel P. Ward, III, Deputy for ROTC Affairs 21st Corps, who discussed the responsibilities of cadet officers. He discussed duty, authority, obligations, and opportunities of officers. Cadet officers are selected on the basis of academic average, leadership ability, and conduct rating.

Lt. Col. Richmond escorts Colonel Ward to the parade field.

The cadet officers take an oath as part of the commissioning ceremonies.

Staunton Military Academy Staunton, Virginia

To all who these presents may come, greetings: know ye, that reposing special trust and confidence in the ability, integrity, and loyalty of . . . I hereby appoint him Cadet . . . Corps of Cadets, fully and diligently to discharge the duty of the office to which he is appointed and is to follow such orders and directions, as he shall receive from me or other superior officers set over him, according to the rules and discipline of the Academy. I do strictly charge all cadets under his command to be obedient to his orders as an officer.

Cadet Colonel S. James Adkins is presented the Legion of Valor bronze cross by Rear Admiral Herman O. Parrish. Cadet Colonel Adkins is the first Staunton cadet to receive the award and was the one student in the Second Army area chosen for the award which is given by the Legion of Valor of the United States of America, Inc.

LEGION OF VALOR

President John F. Kennedy shakes the hand of Mercury Astronaut John H. Glenn after presenting him with the Distinguished Service Award of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

VETERAN'S DAY

In a brief but impressive ceremony on 12 November 1962 the Corps of Cadets and staff observed Veteran's Day. The somber proceedings included an address by the Reverend Mr. E. Guthrie Brown, Rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church of Staunton, gave a brief talk and special prayer.

To honor Staunton's students who made the supreme sacrifice in World Wars I and II and the Korean War, a memorial wreath was placed at the foot of the monument on Flag Pole Hill. The wreath was placed by Colonel Philip Enslow and Lieutenant Colonel Walter McCracken while a cadet firing squad fired a volley of three shots. The ceremony was concluded by two buglers playing echo taps.

The uniform for each formation and important changes of schedule are announced by bugler. The bugler must go to each barracks and repeat the announcement as Cadet Godfrey is preparing to do for North Barracks.

Cadets Commings and Robert prepare their rifles for rifle inspection.

S. F. C. Sykes registers cadets McAllister and Liberman for physicals.

Corporal of the Guard George Commings rings bells for classes.

Each day a detail from one company goes on guard. This duty is rotated among the companies. The Military Duty officer inspects the new and old guards at the beginning and end of each tour of duty.

As tactical officer of D Company, Master Sergeant Mays leads the company in an exercise during P.T.

Keith Russell is busy working on one of the guard reports. As Sergeant of the Guard he has the responsibility to see that the guard is present and functioning properly. He must check absence reports, control the pass book, prepare a summary of delinquency reports.

P.T.

A new physical training program was introduced to the corps this year. Such exercises as bend and reach, squat bender, pushups, side bender, body twist, knee bender, trunk twister, and eight count push-ups "delighted" everyone participating in this program.

Jack White and Ray MacDonald complete a report after an inspection.

INSPECTIONS

Inspections are part of the way of Life for Staunton cadets, and take various forms: personnel, rifle, room. Most of these are held at regular intervals; preparation may be made for these. Sometimes there are surprise inspections; only those who live right are ready for these. Merits and demerits are awarded according to the observations of the inspecting officer.

As Corporal of the Guard George Cummings receives calls for cadets and dispatches messengers.

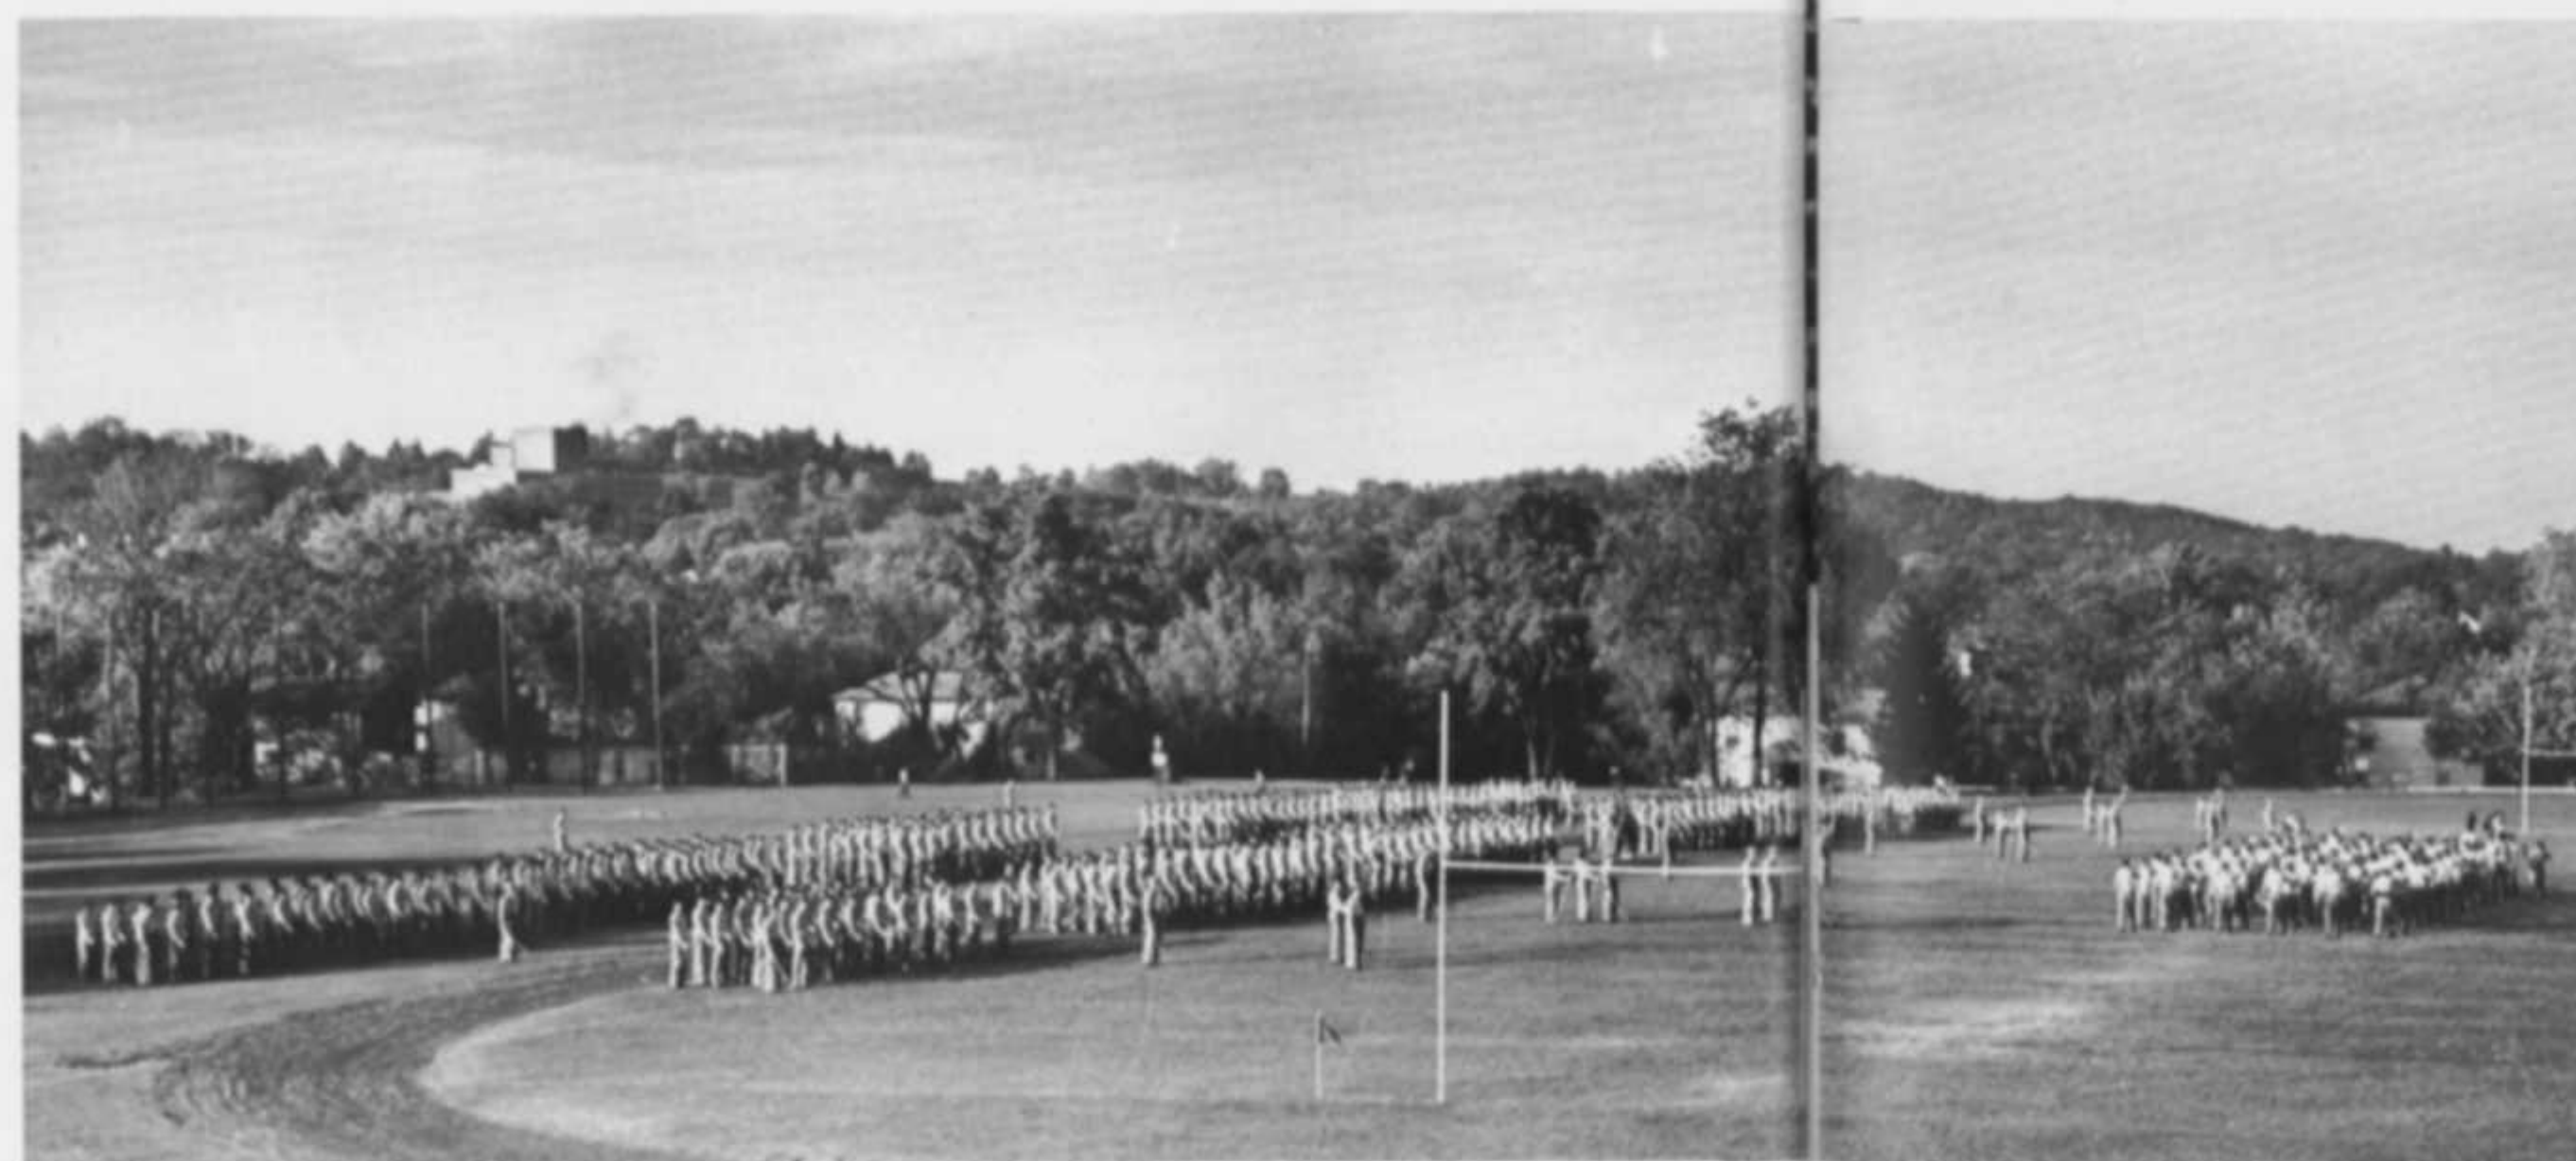

Staff Sergeant Ray Tabor gives instruction in the assembly of 81 MM mortar.

Richard Jentis and Ralph Fatica make sure they are ready for the next haircut inspection.

B company officers discuss drill for the day.

PARADES

Retreat Parades are held every Sunday afternoon except during inclement weather. The parades, attended by large groups from Staunton, Mary Baldwin, and Stuart Hall, include rifle manual, marching maneuvers, and passing in review. The company that wins the parade receives points toward Honor Company.

MS IV MANEUVERS

The members of Military Science Classes II and IV participated in overnight tactical maneuvers on May 5, 1962. The two units were organized into typical U.S. Army battle groups, with the IV's being designated as the aggressors and the II's the defenders. During the exercises the participants carried out reconnaissance and patrolling missions as well as running through a battle problem given by Lt. Col. Richters. The young soldiers were exposed to simulated enemy attacks on the route to and from the sight of operations.

The Drum and Bugle Corps plays for the Howie Rifles.

Officers of E Company study a map reading problem.

S.F.C. Demory gives on the Browning Automatic Rifle.

MILITARY SCIENCE CLASSES

All students at Staunton are required to attend Military Science classes twice a week. These classes, taught by the military officers and non-commissioned officers assigned by the Department of the Army are a definite part of the curriculum. New cadets are placed in Military Science I while other students attend classes on the basis of the years at the Academy and the credits earned in Military Science. The purpose of the instruction is to prepare the cadets for Senior Reserve Officer Training.

GOVERNMENT INSPECTION

Colonel Day greets the chief inspecting officer, Lieutenant Colonel John B. Brady.

The Department of the Army conducted its annual Government Inspection April 13, 1962. The inspection made by a special team of Second Army officers determines whether the Academy will continue to hold its "honor school" rating. The team of officers checked the personal equipment of the cadets, noted the military bearing and poise of the Corps, observed a demonstration of the cadets' knowledge of military science and tactics, and reviewed the Corps in a formal parade.

The inspection was announced a success by the Adjutant General, Department of the Army in a special telegram to the Academy. It read in part "The ROTC Unit at your institution has been selected as a military school honor ROTC unit for having maintained exceptionally high standards of military training and discipline . . ."

HOWIE RIFLES

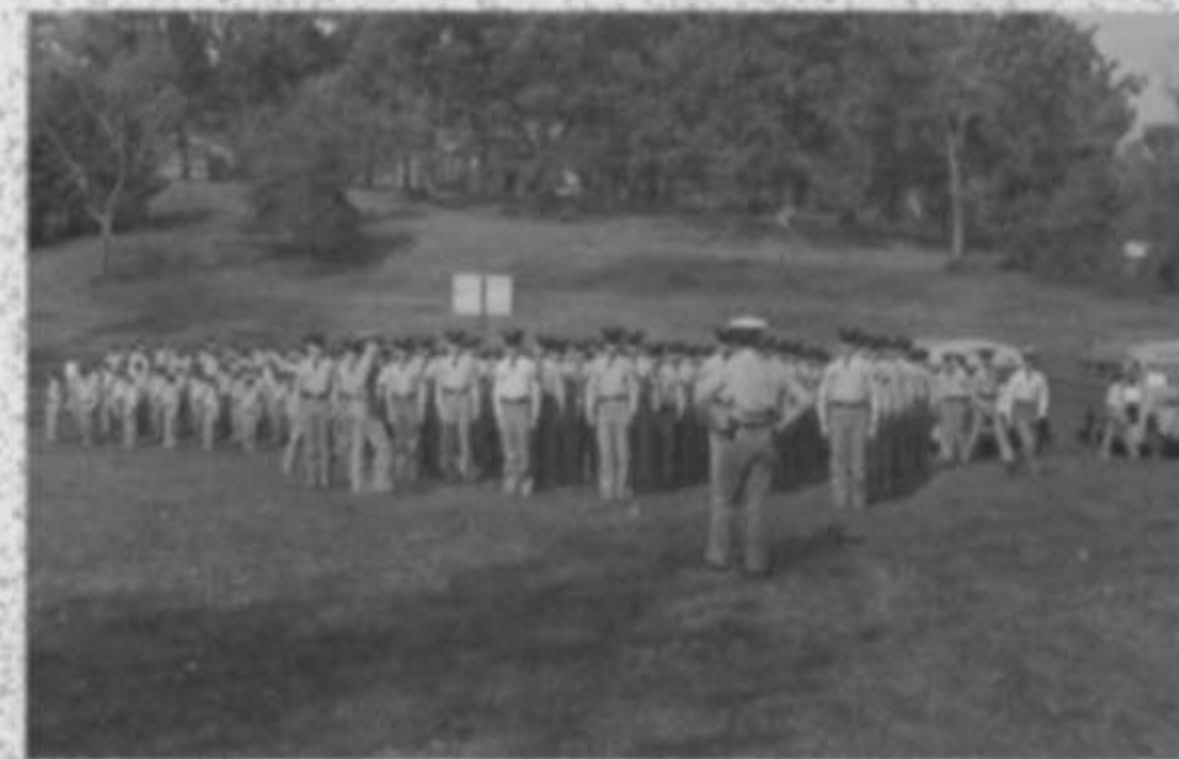

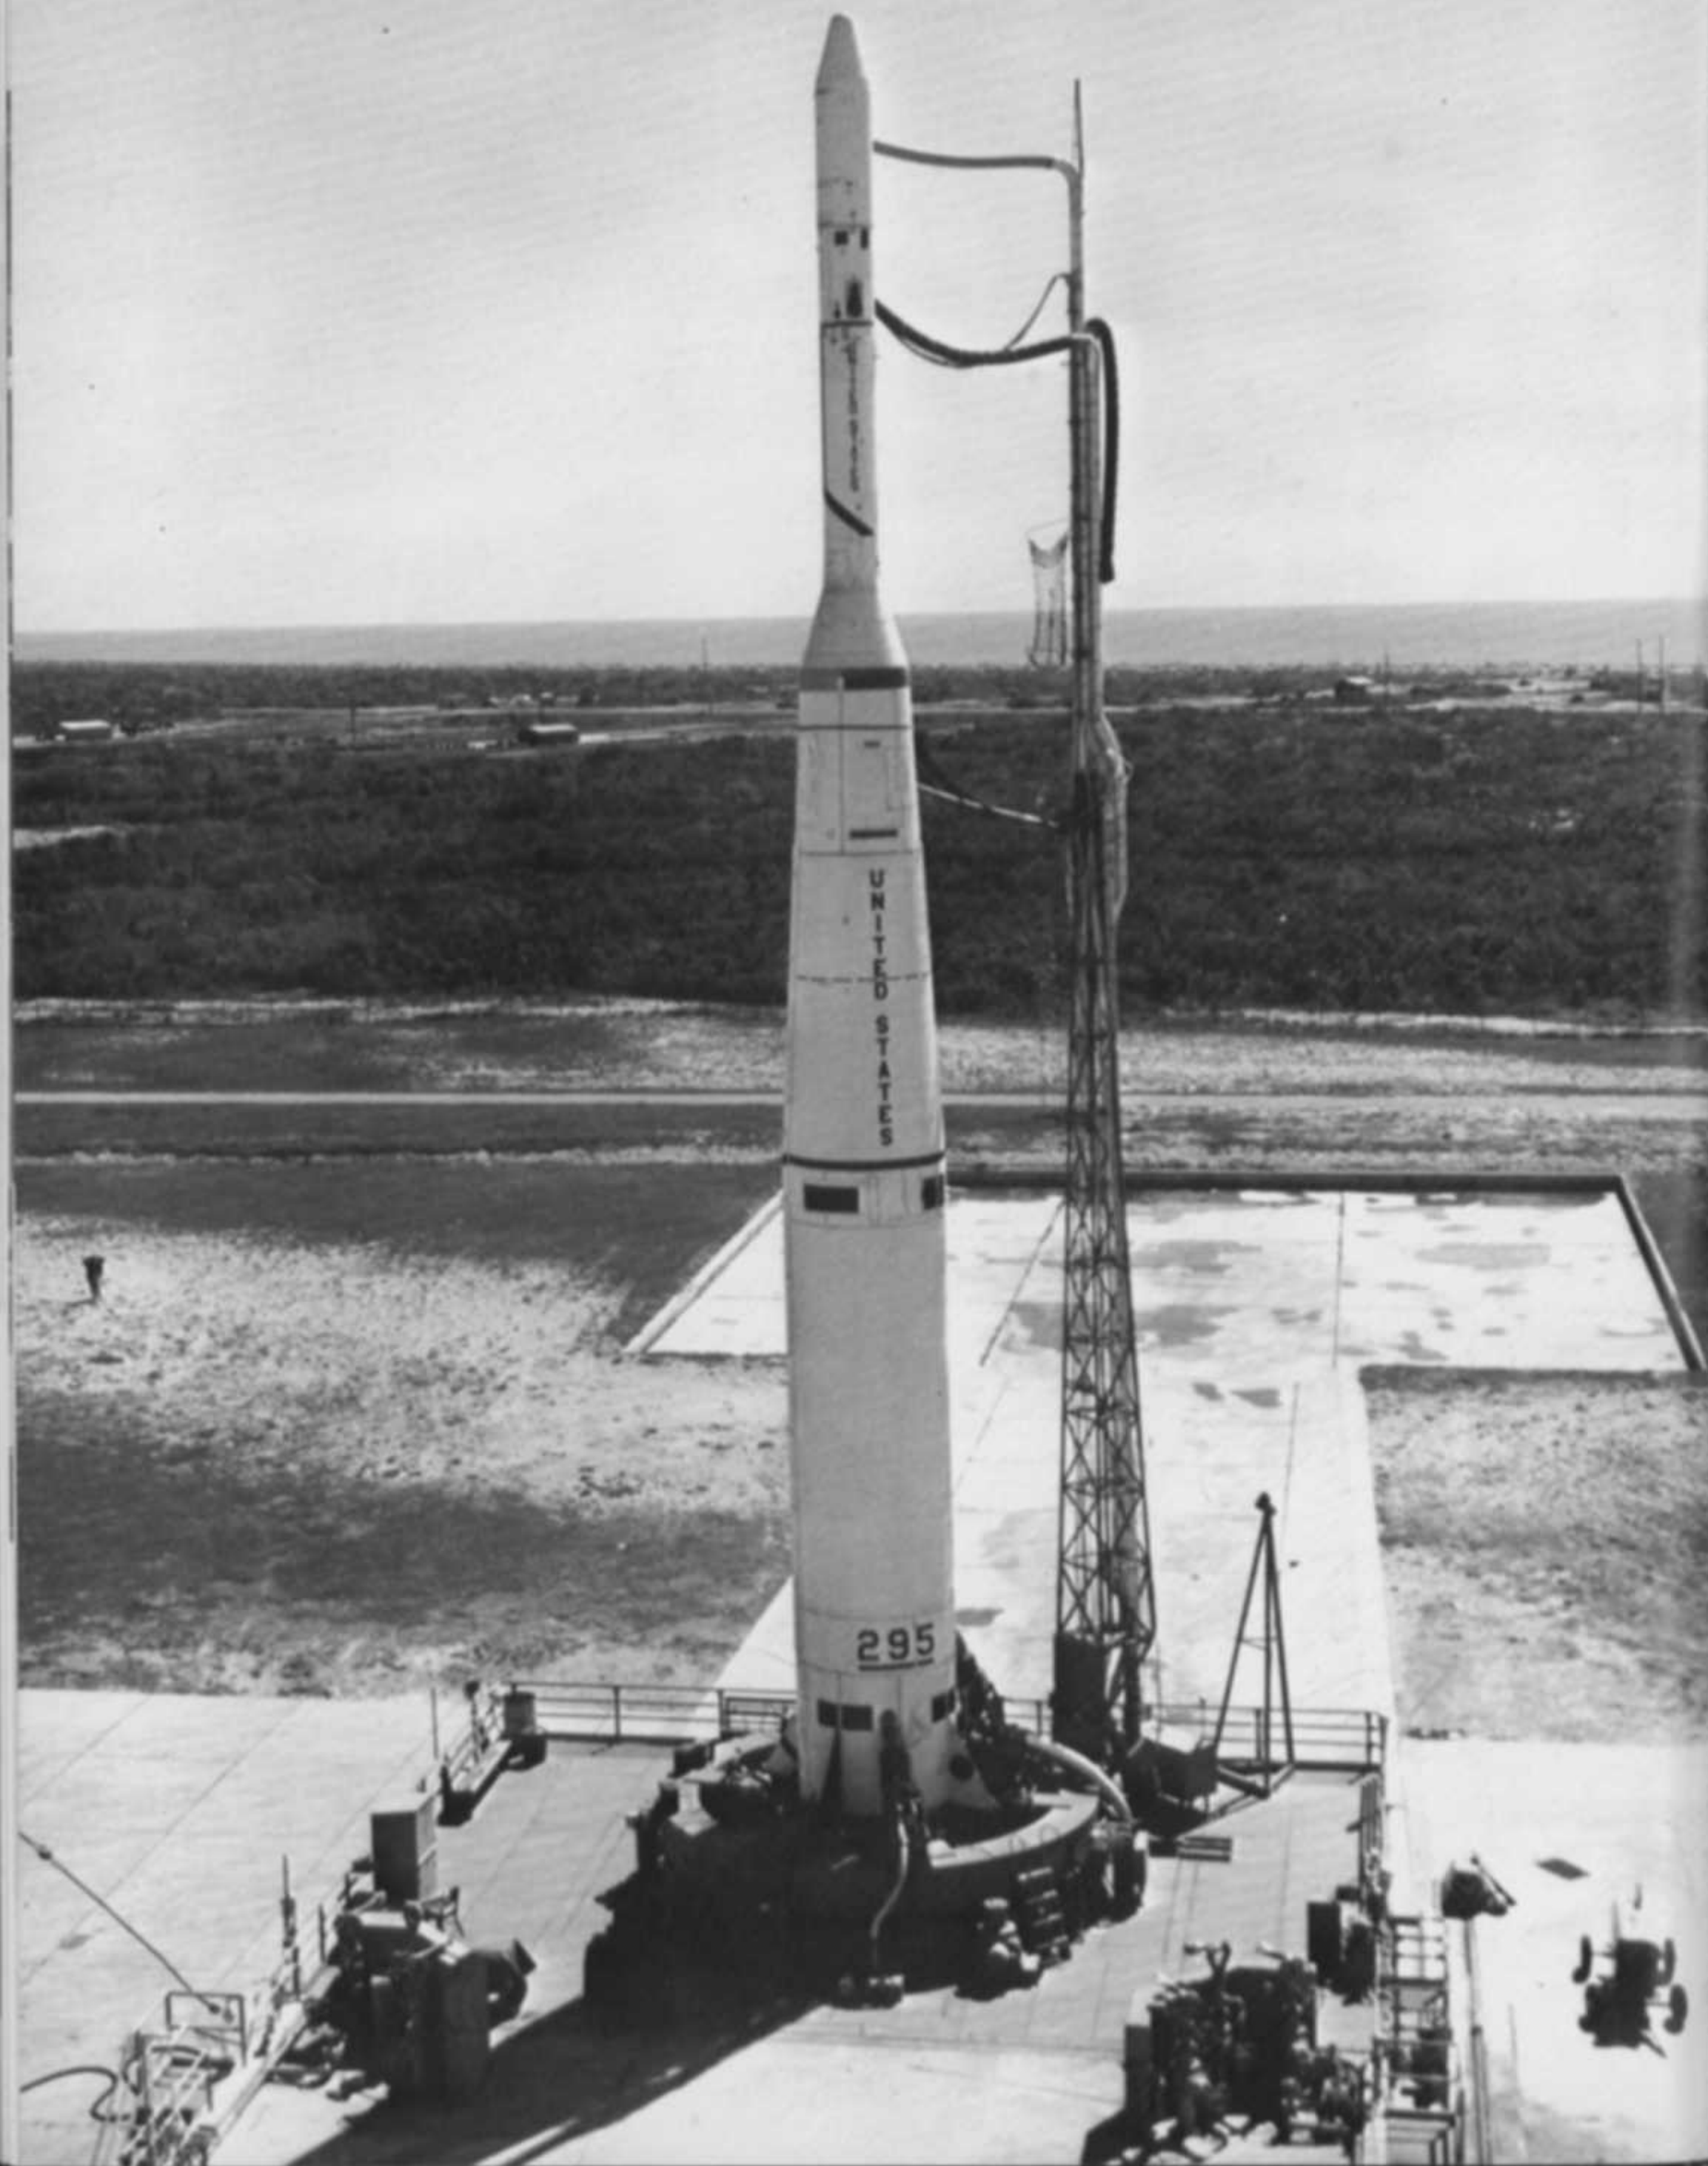

Eighty cadets were appointed to membership in the Howie Rifles in recognition of their excellent performances in the areas of academic grades, military science, conduct, drill proficiency, and leadership. Cadet First Captain S. James Adkins was named as Commander.

The Howie Rifles organization was established in 1945 to perpetuate the ideals, leadership, and courage exemplified by Major Thomas D. Howie. Major Howie, for many years a member of the Staunton Faculty, distinguished himself in the Battle of "St. Lo," a major battle of World War II.

September 21, 1962
Staunton 9 — Emory and Henry Frosh 6
A little shaky due to first game tension, the Hilltoppers subdued a fine college freshman team by the narrow margin of 9 to 6. The fighting Stauntonians were greatly impaired by ill-timed penalties, but they overcame this handicap with strong determination and hard playing. The game was highlighted by Billy Hayes' 44 yard sprint and Ron Bartolacci's defensive antics.

September 29, 1962 Shrine Game
Staunton 9 — E. C. Glass 0

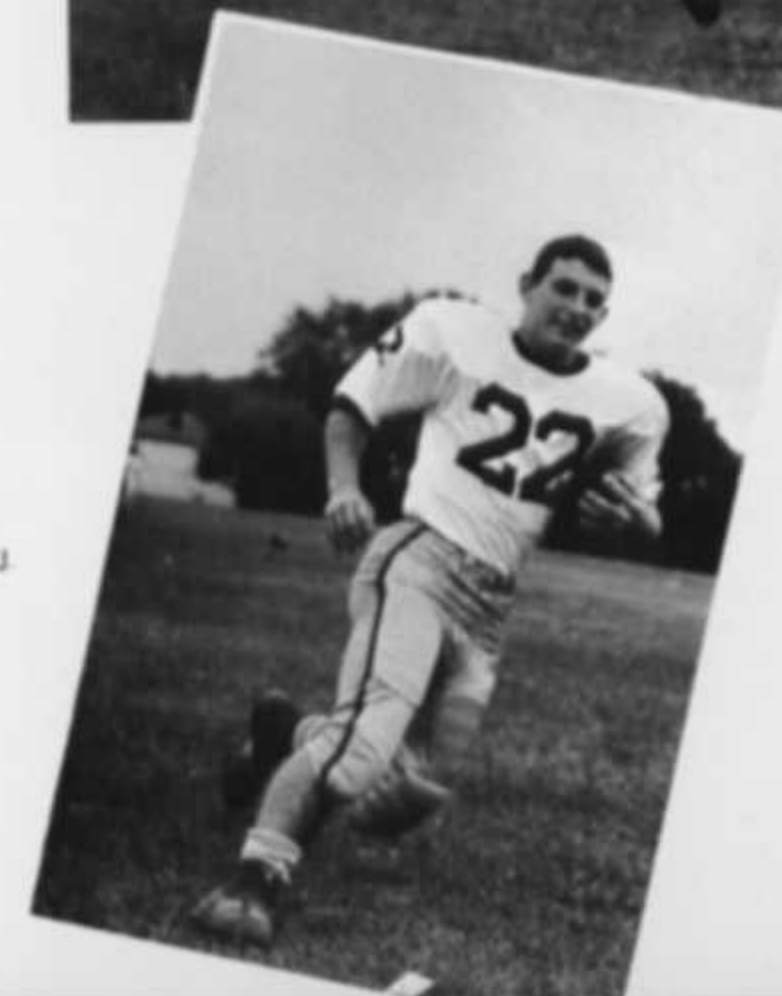

In this game the team was eagerly looking forward to avenging a beating it received from the E. C. Glass eleven last season. It was this loss that prevented a perfect season for the 1961 team. And the Hilltoppers this year were not going to allow such a thing to happen. It was here that Staunton proudly displayed the fine defense which was to be its mainstay throughout the season.

October 5, 1962
Staunton 3 — Washington & Lee 0

Here again the big Staunton defense showed its teeth, holding Washington and Lee scoreless for all four quarters. The only big effort raised by the Generals was a pass attack in the third quarter. This threat was properly squelched by a fumble recovery on the part of Jeff Phillips. The defense was augmented by the flashy sprints of Jimmy Anderson.

Staunton 18 — Augusta Military 7

The annual contest held between S. M. A. and its arch rival A. M. A. was a bitterly fought game from the kickoff. And when the battle drew to a close, A. M. A. was again made to bow to the fine Hilltoppers. This hard won victory can be attached to the desire, endurance, and ability displayed by S. M. A. throughout the four quarters, as the team gave one of its best performances of the season.

October 20, 1962

Staunton 8 — Hargrave Military 14

This game was the heartbreak of the season. It was S. M. A.'s first loss in thirteen games and a loss which many felt should never have occurred. Mistakes weighed heavily in deciding the outcome of the game, and it was these errors on which Hargrave capitalized to gain the six point winning margin.

Staunton 36 —

Greenbrier Military 7

What looked like a hard battle turned into a mild landslide in favor of S. M. A. as the Hilltoppers cruised to a 36 to 7 victory over the West Virginians, with everyone on the Staunton team getting a chance to play. Fumble recoveries by Jeff Phillips and Richard Thompson and a pass interception by Billy Hoy figured vitally in the S.M.A. victory. This was an important game for the Staunton cadets because it once more put them in line for the coveted league championship.

November 3, 1962

Staunton 18 — Columbian Prep 0

Despite a cold, overcast, rainy day, the S. M. A. team displayed a fine effort in downing Columbian Prep. Good defensive play by Ron Bartolacci, John Topakas, and Sal Garcia kept the visitors scoreless.

November 16, 1962

Staunton 26 — Frederick Military 6

After a close first half, S. M. A. took command of the game and exploded for three touchdowns while holding a big Frederick team scoreless. Again the hard-nosed defense and fast offense of the Hilltoppers shone bright from the opening kickoff to the final gun. Standouts in the game were Topakas, Johnson, and S. M. A.'s two fine quarterbacks, Brooks and Beaver. Adding variety to Staunton's open offensive game were four completed passes for a total of 60 yards.

November 22, 1962

Staunton 13 — Fork Union Military 0

Throughout a season of many memorable games, the FUMA game surpassed them all in tension and excitement. This was the game, the one that would decide the Military League Championship.

The Hilltoppers grabbed the lead midway through the first period on a pass from quarterback Charlie Brooks to halfback Billy Hoy, who sprinted through Blue Devil defenders for a 39 yard touchdown. Tom Anderson's placement gave S. M. A. a 7-0 margin and all it needed to retain the title won last year in the traditional Thanksgiving Day clash. After the score, Coach Steinberg's club played control ball on offense and stopped every Fork Union scoring thrust with an excellent defensive show. The defensive team scored the clincher on the third play of the fourth quarter. When Fork Union tried to punt from its own end zone, Staunton's big co-captain, Terry Sanford, blocked the punt and end Bill Gordon recovered for the final touchdown.

BLUE AND GOLD

You play the game,
 You know that we will cheer you;
 So play for fame,
 You know that we are near you;
 We cheer for you,
 And for the dear old Gold and Blue.
 Hip Hip a Ray (shout)
 This is what we say:

First Chorus:

Strive on, our dear old schoolmates
 Fight for the goal in sight.
 Strive for the fame of old S.M.A.
 Fight with all your might.
 Don't let defeat cause sorrow,
 Think of the victories of old.
 One day's defeat means victory to meet,
 So fight hard for the Blue and Gold.

Second Chorus:

Hail to our Alma Mater!
 Hail to the Gold and Blue!
 Here's to thy glorious past, S.M.A.
 Here's to thy future too!
 Under thy glorious colors
 We'll double victories of old.
 We'll shout thy name and bear thee to Fame,
 So fight on for the Blue and Gold.
